Summary description of project:

This spring the 400 level studio was given the opportunity to design the interior space for the Duke City Shootout International Film Festival. The studio was given a program that would accommodate spaces for digital editing, cyber dwelling, coffee/bar space and exhibit space. The challenge of this project was to keep it within a very slim budget. Innovative uses of space and the use of inexpensive materials were the primary goals of the studio. The studio format was a competition and the winners fabricated the installation this July.

Reasons for the nomination:

This project deserves recognition in that it utilized digital fabrication processes to develop an innovative formal and structural language. This project deviates from recent surface/pattern driven methodologies and focused on structural innovation as the basis for its aesthetic. The creative use of material and economy of form provided a compelling spatial environment at full scale.

Jury comments:

Clearly, digital media have been used all through the process, but it is not clear what impact the digital process has had on the project outcome.
